WHAT CAN YOU FIND AT A LOCAL GENEALOGICAL LIBRARY?

Much of the information is available on the internet, so a researcher thinks that there is no reason to come to the small library in your ancestor's hometown. Some of the advantages of our library are;

Cemetery records. In 2012 the staff used cemetery records, actual walking surveys, and obituaries to make our records the best that they could be at that time. The cemeteries are indexed alphabetically by name. Edgar Cemetery in Paris Township is also indexed by burial lot; thus, you can determine who is buried on the same lot or nearby without walking the cemetery.

Country school history. School bulletins from 1911 to 1998 are available that list teachers, school directors, and later ones list bus drivers.

Microfilm of some Edgar County newspapers. Beacon papers from 1848 to 1951 not including the 1860's and some of 1870's, The Chrisman Weekly Courier, The Hume Record, and The Kansas Journal also microfilmed for many of the years that they existed.

Marriage Records Indexes. Some of the later marriage books list the parents of the bride and groom. If one obtains proof of a marriage at the courthouse, it usually only lists the bride and groom and the date.

ECGS newsletters. The library has a complete set of our newsletters.

Donated family histories. Some of the most interesting include the stories written by someone who lived many years ago.

Note: The library located at 408 N. Main Street, Paris, IL is open on Thursdays and Fridays, except for holidays or bad weather. It is open by appointment at other times.

Have you renewed your ECGS Membership Yet?

WILLOW GROVE

Willow Grove is situated three miles west of Horace, twelve miles north-west of Paris and near the beautiful Cornehan Lake.

Mrs. Ollie Whitsel has been on the sick list for the past week.

A. D. VanHoutan happened to quite a serious accident last week by being trampled by a colt.

Miss Jennie Koho returned to Vermillion from an extended visit with friends and relatives in this locality.

A. Benefiel was the guest of the Stotts family last Sunday.

Mr. Frank Strole and lady were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvy Clark, last Sunday.

Saturday, June 28th, was very pleasant for the entire neighborhood, it being the last day of school at Willow Grove, taught by Miss Morrison. The forenoon was passed in recitation of regular lessons and school music. At twelve o'clock the crowd was dismissed and retired to the grove where two tables were well loaded with delicious eatables. The children were seated at one table and parents at the other. Ice cream was served to all. After eating dinner, which occupied three hours, the folks went to the schoolhouse, which was beautifully decorated with pictures, evergreens, and flowers, which exhibited skill and taste in their arrangement. The afternoon exercises were opened with prayer by Mr. Clark, which was followed by vocal and instrumental music, speeches, and dialogues by the pupils, which continued about three hours, when all went home delighted with the day's entertainment. The patrons of the district were all well delighted with the manner in which the school was conducted and the advancement of the pupils in the last term of school. Surely great credit and praise is due to Miss Morrison for her interest manifested in the school. We hope we may be able to secure her services again and will freely recommend her to any directors in the county.

PATROLMAN BATES IS ROUSED OUT OF BED

He appeared at the police station Saturday morning in the presence of Chief of Police Ed Bacon. His face bore a worried expression. He looked as tho he had not a friend in the world. Behind it one could see that he was just a little excited. It was very evident that something unusual had happened.

When he began to unwind his story the cause of his troubles was plainly seen. In cold brief words he was shy just $245, which is enough to send almost any man into spasms.

According to his story he had spent the night at the home of Patrolman Simeon Bates, a very near friend. He had the money in a bill book in his coat. The next morning he arose and came down town. He stopped at a local grocery and, the weather being extremely hot, he took off his coat and hung it on a nail in the store. He left the coat for about two hours. Then he took it and walked to South Marshall street, where he visited a couple of friends. On his way back to the square, he discovered his money was gone.

He immediately reported the loss to Chief Bacon, who advised him to get Patrolman Bates out of bed to assist in the search. The man hurried to the Bates home, where he awakened the patrolman and told his troubles. Then it developed that, in making up the beds in the morning, Bates' aged mother had found the pocketbook on the floor.

The woman examined it and thought it was empty. She laid it on a shelf, where it was found. By opening a secret compartment the man found his $245 intact. It is needless to say the treats were on him.

Note: The main subject in this article is never named, but in that day I am sure everybody thought that they knew who lost his money; or "Was it Bates himself, who had lost his billfold?"

Ed Bacon later became a deputy U. S. Marshall in Danville, IL. Then he moved to western Texas where he was a U. S. Marshall. The last article in the Chrisman paper reports that he was living in El Paso, Texas.

Note: The following two obituaries are about the long term effects of the 1918 influenza.

CLINTON DENGLER GOES TO HIS REWARD

Clinton Dengler, 34 years old, died Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, just a week after his mother's death, at St. Anthony's hospital, Terre Haute. Tuesday he went to Martinsville Springs, he was taken worse soon after arriving, and his wife and her sister, Miss Ethel Bell, went Thursday to the Springs, returning with him to Terre Haute Friday. He had been in failing health since having influenza last year. Monday he attended the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Frank Dengler.

Clinton Dengler was born at Elbridge. Thirteen years ago he was united in marriage with Celia Bell, who survives him. His father, Frank Dengler, of Paris, one brother, Ray Dengler, and one half sister, Mrs. Grace Witty, of Terre Haute, also survive.

OBITUARY

Mrs. William D. Jones

Mrs. William D. Jones died at 2:45 o'clock Friday morning, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Emily Meadows, 814 Maple Ave. In 1920 she was stricken with influenza and she never regained her health. Four weeks ago she was taken to the home of her mother where she never recovered.

Ethel Meadows was born July 22nd, 1884. She was united in marriage with William D. Jones May 15, 1901. He survives her with one son Delbert. Aside from her mother, two sisters, Mrs. William Honnold and Mrs. N. E. Haddix, one brother, Charles A. Meadows, several nieces and nephews also survive. She was a member of the M. E. Church and the Pocahontas Lodge.

WOMEN MEET DEATH FROM INTENSE HEAT

Jones' Store is in Mourning as a Result of a Horrible Sunday Sacrifice

A horrible sacrifice took place here Sunday when five models, employed by the Jones Dry Goods Company met a slow and tortuous death as a result of the intense heat of the day. Charles Anthony, assistant manager of the store happened to be away from the city Sunday. Generally he looks after the display windows to see that they are protected from the sun.

Monday morning it was found that five of the most valuable wax figures in the store were in horrible shape. Cheeks had melted down until they had become merged with chins. Eyeballs fell out of their places, the necks were in a frightful twist, and the hands had dropped to the floor. One of the figures was valued at more than a hundred dollars.

Note: Charles Anthony was born on 8 December 1878 in New York state. He moved to Paris with his family when he was eleven years old. He worked at the Jones Dry Goods store for 33 years and later at an awning company as a salesman. Mr. Charles Anthony died 25 May 1951 at age 72.

To California

Mr. George W. Hughes expects to leave in a few days for a two months trip to Colorado and California. In the latter state he will visit his good friend, Prof. Luther Burbank, the world's greatest authority on plants and flowers and forests.

The banker spent many happy hours with Mr. Burbank during his visit there a year ago.

Note: Luther Burbank (7 March 1849 – 11 April 1926) was a botanist, horticulturist, and pioneer in agricultural science. He developed over 800 strains and varieties of flowers, fruits, grains, grasses, and vegetables.

PUBLIC BENEFACTOR ENDS EARTHLY DUTIES

As if a thunderbolt sent out of a clear sky, the news spread over our little city Friday afternoon of the very sudden death of Mr. Geo. W. Hughes, who passed away while sitting in a chair in the office of Dr. J. Mussleman, in Paris, about 3:40 o'clock.

During the early afternoon he left his home in Hume, in seemingly good health, and went to Paris to attend a meeting of the Edgar County Historical Society. He entered the law office of Lauher Brothers on the west side of the square about 3:30. He chatted with the attorneys and Frank Church concerning several matters.

During the conversation he complained of a severe pain in his chest. Soon after, he departed and walked north to the office of Dr. Musselman. The doctor was not in and he seated himself to await his return. The time of his arrival is not known, but it is supposed to have been about 3:40.

A little later Mr. and Mrs. Newton Bell passed the office. Both noticed the form of a man sitting as if asleep and commented on the uncomfortable position assumed. The extreme pallor of the face was noted. Mr. Bell was impressed, entered the office, and noticed at once Mr. Hughes was indeed asleep, but in the slumber which knows no waking. The alarm was given and bystanders came in. Dr. Musselman arrived within a few minutes, and an examination showed life had been extinct for some time.

A telephone message to his son-in-law, Frank K. Page, vice president of the Hume bank was the first intimation to the people at home. It was brought out that several months ago while on a business trip to Indiana, Mr. Hughes had been attacked with a severe pain in the region of his heart. He said little about it at home giving as a reason that he probably would never be seized again and did not wish to alarm the family.

George W. Hughes was born in Boone County, KY, February 18, 1847, the son of Joseph C. and Amanda Hughes, natives of Kentucky and residents of Boone county. His father, Joseph C. died December 16, 1887. Mr. Hughes worked with his father until twenty-four years of age when he moved to Shiloh township, Edgar county, Ill., where he rented a farm for eight years. He then purchased land to which he added until he owned over 640 acres.

On October 15, 1879, Mr. Hughes married Miss Mary L. Winston, of Boone county, Kentucky to which union were born two daughters: Mrs. Frank Page of Hume and Mrs. Sarah Aikman of Denver, CO. Mrs. Hughes preceded her husband in death November 14, 1898.

During the year 1891 he became interested in the village of Hume, in Young America township. About this time he founded a private bank known for years as the Hughes bank and which soon won and held an enviable position in the business world. Some years later the bank was recognized under a state charter. When a national bank was suggested, Mr. Hughes was instrumental in organizing the First National Bank of Hume and was one of the heaviest stockholders.

He had many interests. He was a shareholder in the Fletcher National Bank of Indianapolis. He was also a stockholder in the Fletcher American Bond company of the same city. He was the owner of the Hume Telephone Company and a heavy stockholder in the Vermilion exchange.

He became early interested in hard roads and when the Ocean-to-Ocean road was planned, was elected vice-president of the association. He was also interested in the Dixie Highway and Big Four trail.

He was a member of the Board of Supervisors, when the present Edgar County courthouse was erected, and served as chairman of the building committee. He was interested in the development of his hometown. A few years ago he built the structure, which houses the Hume Library and virtually made a gift of the same to the town. He built the Masonic Temple of Hume and the structure will remain as a monument to his memory. When the American Legion was organized in Hume, a suitable headquarters was not easily found in the village. Mr. Hughes fitted up and turned over to the society, rent free, a commodious hall said to be one of the best post rooms in the state.

In addition to other banking interests, the deceased was heavily interested in the Citizens State Bank of Montezuma, Indiana. He also owned a fine body of fertile farm land.

Fraternally Mr. Hughes was identified with the Masons and Odd Fellows. He was a member of the Blue lodge A. F. & A. M. of Hume, Palestine Commander No. 27, and Edgar Chapter No. 32 of Paris. He took the Consistory degrees at Peoria. He was a faithful and consistent member of the M. E. Church.

He is survived by two daughters: Mrs. Frank K Page, of Hume, and Mrs. Ralph O. Aikman of Denver. The funeral services were conducted from the M. E. church in Hume Monday afternoon. Rev. L. D. Jeffers officiating, and internment was made in the Hume cemetery.

Mark Golden Wedding At Graham Home

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graham, residing one mile west of Elbridge, observed their golden wedding anniversary at open house from two to four o'clock Sunday afternoon, 70 friends and relatives calling to extend congratulations.

Refreshments of cake, coffee and mints were served at a table centered with a three-tiered cake, ornamented with gold roses and topped with a gold bell. Mrs. Garnet Elliott, eldest daughter, cut the cake, and assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Oral Forsythe, Mrs. Velvin Graham and four granddaughters. Yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the Graham home.

Mr. Graham was born in 1878 at Conlogue, the son of Zach and Mary Jane Jenkins Graham. Mrs. Graham, daughter of Charles and Mary Quick Hefner, was born in 1881 at Calway, Mo. Their marriage was solemnized on November 30, 1898, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crandall in Grandview township. Mr. Crandell, justice of peace, performed the ceremony. Reception guests who were present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Henson and Mr. Graham's sister, Mrs. Rosa Morrow, of Paris. Greater part of their lives has been spent in Edgar County.

The Grahams had five children, one of whom, Mrs. Opal Miller, died in 1928. Those living are Lester, of Kansas, Velvin, of Newman, Mrs. Oral Forsythe, of Vermilion, and Mrs. Garnet Elliott, R. R. 2, Paris. They have 16 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.
